New lectures on Pure Classical Homeopathy in 2019

www.LucDeSchepperLive.com

Introduction & Overview

This is an unique course consisting of a series of five new recorded lectures in 2019, with an additional hour live webinar. The live webinar will be supplementary to the five previous lectures and also offers the opportunity to participants to ask questions about the discussed topics.

About the speaker

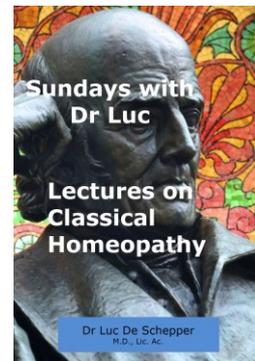

Dr Luc De Schepper does not need much introduction. He is well known for his international teachings and for his great books which have been translated in many languages. Dr Luc, as all his patients call him, is known for his profound insight of the teachings of Hahnemann and other classical authors and his Pure Classical Homeopathic approach and teachings. There are not many teachers who can match his level of homeopathic knowledge and practical experience.

For who might not yet be familiar with Dr Luc at the end of this document you find a short description of his main books and a summary of Dr Luc's CV.

Real teachings of Hahnemann

This course offers different topics which are fruitful for any practitioner. Luc says, "My first goal is to provide any homeopath with the real teachings of Hahnemann, to avoid the danger, which I already see now in several countries, that homeopathy is abolished, mainly through our own actions by following non-Hahnemannian teaching".

We are happy to present this course as we have noticed that many recently graduated homeopaths have a lack of classical homeopathic training and are confused by the many new methods. Also many existing homeopaths are looking for a reliable source to gain more in-depth knowledge of the classical homeopathic approach. For both groups the new lectures 'Sundays with Dr. Luc' is a perfect solution.

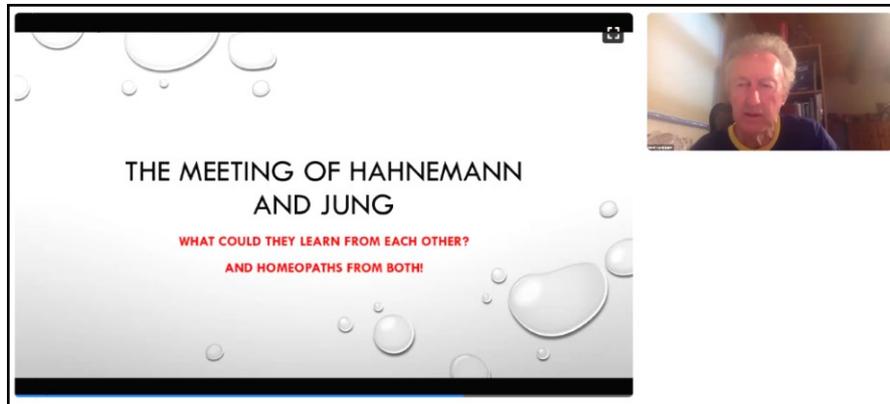

In recent years it sometimes would appear as if most of Hahnemann's teachings have been forgotten or misunderstood, and many recent teachers are promoting things like: "using several remedies at the same time, using non proven remedies - only based on theoretical assumptions, promoting an isopathic approach – potentized vaccines or medication, drainage remedies, etc.”

The arguments which are often used are for example: "We have new diseases, so we need new remedies. There is environmental pollution or other new influences, so therefore old remedies do not work anymore, etc.”

In all of Dr. Luc's teachings he will show you that all this is not correct, and if you understand and apply classical homeopathy well, you have more than enough powerful tools available to achieve wonderful cures, were new methods fail.

Course topics and more

As mentioned already the course consists of five recorded lectures of around a half hour to 40 minutes each, and one hour live webinar which can be followed live or if you cannot be present at the live webinar date, you can also view the recording afterwards.

Live webinar

The live webinar will allow participants to communicate directly with Luc and all other course participants. Depending on the internet speed of participants it will be possible to have a lively communication, but some participants might only be able to speak after raising their hand after their microphone is being unmuted by the webinar manager (if they have a poor internet/sound quality). We therefore recommend participants to use earphones and a good microphone, and to use a direct cable connection if available.

Five topics

Below the five main topics of the course are described, each will take about 30 to 40 minutes. To completely follow the whole course will take you 5 ½ hours.

Topic One: “The Meeting of Carl Jung and Hahnemann: What they could have learned from each other and homeopaths from both.”

“Although these two icons are from a different century, both would have increased their practice with knowledge from each other’s discoveries. After reading all Jung’s works, I was amazed to see that he was an ‘unconscious homeopath’, formulating many homeopathic principles. As Jung’s teachings were based on the union of the patient’s conscious and unconscious world, knowing the 6th edition of the Organon would have been a tremendous asset to reach that goal, as I read about some of his cases where he followed his patient for 25 years who went from one delusion to another without being able to achieve a cure.

I elaborate with examples exactly what he could have learned from Hahnemann. Hahnemann on the other hand, after six editions of the Organon, had reached what he called ‘the totality of the symptoms’ for the prescription of the simillimum.

I will address in this topic that he actually did not reach that goal, even for those homeopaths who strictly are following the 6th edition of the Organon, which are few in this world. This topic therefore is of enormous importance for any homeopath, beginner or advanced, as they can learn from both which will lead to a greater understanding of the patient and the key to his suffering: the simillimum.”

Topic Two: “How to translate the language of the patient into rubrics?”

“If I have learned anything from my lifelong teaching, is that any homeopath, beginner or advanced (with few exceptions!) struggle with this issue. As a result, people start using esoteric methods that have nothing to do with classical 6th edition homeopathy, ‘because it is

How to translate the language of the patient into

easier’, a misnomer for practicing methods that need to be reassessed after a couple of years because they fade away. Another result is that a Repertory and Materia Medica, the result of hard work and gift from our old Masters is ‘not needed’ anymore. In this topic I will provide several practical tips to aid the practitioner.

And the multiple choice questions (assignments) related to this lecture will come straight from a case of a child where the mother speaks in her language and where the student needs to do the ‘translation.’

Topic Three: “How to find the first important steps to find the simillimum. Strictly following the 6th edition of the Organon.”

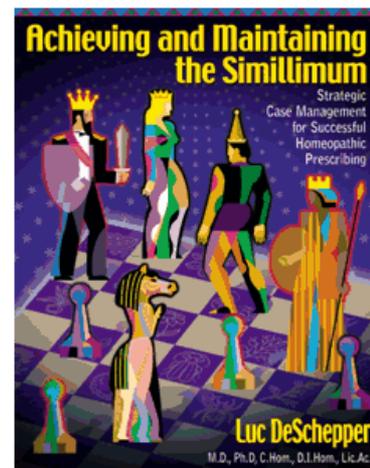

“In this topic I will go step-by-step what the first important aphorisms of the Organon need to be addressed in order to have a greater chance of finding the simillimum, without getting lost in the jungle of patient symptoms and new esoteric sayings. This will be the first important task in any patient case (and helped already by the first two topics) to make the practice more successful and create confidence in the patient.”

SAMUEL HAHNEMANN, M.D.
geb. d. 10. April, 1756.

Topic Four: “The first steps to maintain the simillimum. Strictly following the 6th edition of the Organon.”

“Already James Kent lamented in his Lesser Writings why so many homeopaths get lost after finding the simillimum when confronted with the patient on his second visit. We might get lucky (although more ‘lucky’ with addressing topic three) of finding the simillimum on the first visit, but there is no such luck to maintain the progress of the patient in the direction of the cure. Following strictly the most important aphorisms in the Organon will help the practitioner to steer his patient to the real cure, not suppression of the patient.”

Topic Five: “Using the first four lectures, how to approach and analyze a real clinical case.”

“To test the understanding and cement in memory the first four important lessons, a real case is discussed by Dr. Luc, using step-by-step, different questions and answers as the ‘patient speaks to us.’

This way, the practitioner can test himself and gets in the habit to ask the right questions as well how to shift through the info given by the patient to see what is important or not, and what additional important questions need to be asked.”

Session Six: Live Webinar – Questions and answers

During a one-hour live webinar, participants will be able to ask questions about the previous lectures and Luc has time to teach about a few aspects which he feels needs some additional explanation. Luc will also address some of the written questions which have been submitted by participants while studying the lectures 1 – 5.

The date of the live webinar will be made available on the course webpage www.lucdeschepperlive.com/sundayswithdrluc and sent by email to all participants.

For participants who cannot be present at the live webinar, this sessions will also be made available as recording on the course video platform.

General learning objectives of this course

At the end of this course participants should have learned the following:

- Learn how insights into Carl Jung's psychological philosophy helps to achieve the 'totality of symptoms' during homeopathic case analysis and a greater understanding to find the key to his suffering and finding the corresponding simillimum.

- Gain experience how to translate (often modern language) of the patient into repertory rubrics and materia medica. “e.g. My mother always told me she had wanted a boy, not a girl”.
- Learn the Case Analysis Steps according to the 6th edition of the organon, which will leads to a more successful result in practice.
- Gain a better understanding how to move the patient forward during the 2nd and other follow ups. How to achieve a real cure and not get lost in all the reports of the patient. Which Aphorisms in the Organon are your guide.
- Gain practical experience of the discussed topics with a real case example.

This course is aimed at

All advanced students of homeopathy and working homeopaths.

This course is not suited for the general public.

Basic knowledge needed

To be able to follow the course ‘Sundays With Dr. Luc’ well, it is expected that you are already familiar with the fundamental principles of homeopathy, e.g. the simillimum principle, primary and secondary action (Organon § 64-66), regarding the minimal dose and the 4th edition (Kentian) method of dosing (you can read the appropriate chapters in Kent’s Lectures on Philosophy).

You also need to have a basic medically training to a level which is required to legally have a practice in (complementary) medicine, for example in Germany to be a Heilpraktiker.
